

SBE Show Judging Concepts

These SBE Show Judging Concepts, outline the adjudication process in determining the placings and additional “Merit” classification which may be added to the Excellent or Very Good grading at the WA State Breed Exhibition.

Judging of all SBE Show Classes, except Open Dogs and Open Bitches, is “absolutely merit based” on the individual exhibit, as per any other Specialist Show. The term “absolutely merit based” is to be interpreted as an adjudication that places those exhibits on the basis of their individual anatomy, character and temperament, and performance on the day. The additional classification of “Merit” attached to the basic grading of Very Good, is only done after final placings are completed. It is awarded to indicate where the virtues of that particular exhibit are indicative of the potential of that dog to successfully make the transition to the Open Class and contribute to the future development of the Breed.

The final judgement on each exhibit in the Open Dog or Open Bitch Class has to be a balanced, objective and very well considered combination of the following factors :

- Actual breed contribution to this point of time and probability of future breed contribution,
- Anatomical virtues, character and temperamental attributes, and achievement qualifications,
- Performance in the past and presentation on the day.

For the Open Dog or Bitch Judge at an SBE, the theme of his or her adjudication is to reward deserving breed worth and focus the breeders of this State on their breeding programmes over the next twelve months. This is designed to create a continuing foundation to build a stronger and more predictable future for the breed in this State. Also, this entails pointing out to all breeders what breeding principles have worked to the breed’s advantage at this event and hopefully, this should consequently reflect on all breeders’ efforts in the ensuing years.

In order to successfully contribute to the breed as a breeder, one must be able to produce high quality male dogs as well as high quality bitches. The aim is to breed top males and females of the absolutely correct type, strength and sexual characteristics to complement each other, whilst the potential to retain those producing lines will be enhanced significantly. That is why high regard is placed on quality siblings, families and bloodlines.

In an Open Class at a Main Breed Exhibition or State Breed Exhibition, not only does the judge consider what is presented on the day, but most importantly, all factors of the previously existing phenotype and genetic make-up of each exhibit. This includes physical condition, mental attributes and reactions observed under previous occasions, all progeny, and potential to make a significant contribution to the future of the breed. Ideally, all of the dogs in these classes have previously been successfully Breed Surveyed and shown at Specialty Shows with distinction to Surveyors and Judges, unless a dog has been recently imported. In this context, when considering all the aspects of the exhibits shown in these classes, wherever there arises a matter of interpreting the material placed before the Judge, all benefit of consideration may be given in favour of the dog, if in question.

The final verdict is a qualified and considered opinion. It is only arrived at after giving much consideration to each Open Dog’s or Open Bitch’s individual Anatomical Virtues, current and future potential for Breed Contribution, Mental Attributes and Performance on the day. Slight or mild imperfections of anatomy, character, temperament and gun sureness may result in the loss of gradings or placings, taking into account all of the above reasons. Therefore, the Judge’s final placings and gradings should become self evident, with the bloodlines of the Excellent Merit Dogs and Bitches being potentially able to complement each other from the breeding viewpoint.

In summary, Judges adjudicating on the younger Conformation Classes at our State Breed Exhibition, should judge on the overall breed merits of each individual animal exhibited, including anatomy, character and temperament, and performance on the day. For Open Classes, additional aspects of gun sureness, progeny, breeding potential, past performances and qualifications are taken into account only in those Open Classes. Our Judges see the Excellent Merit Dogs and Excellent Merit Bitches as whole groups, in which each dog has an equal potential to make a valued Breed contribution.

Of course, the interpretation and execution may vary slightly from judge to judge, as this is a normal occurrence in human beings, generally labelled as “individual differences”, and this is highly valued by our fraternity and society.

John Fenner, State Breed Administrator, on behalf of the GSDA of WA Judges Committee and resident Breed Surveyors.
